Roca DECO

05. Big Spaces

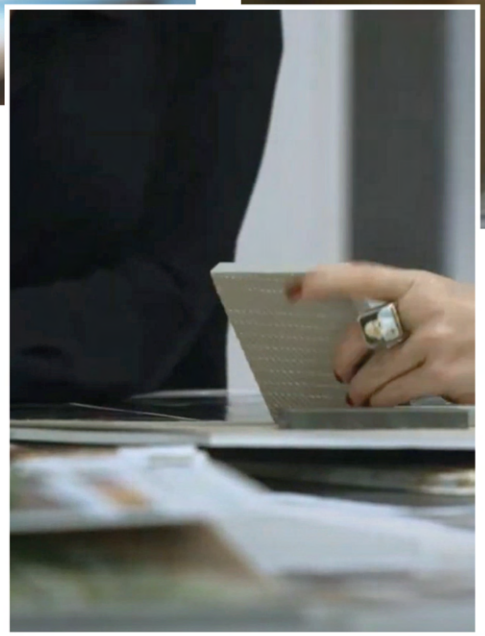

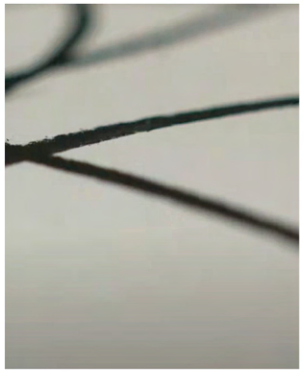

We are excited to present you with the new issue of Roca Deco, a periodical publication that will bring you closer to the potential of using Roca ceramics from innovative, technical and inspiring approaches.

The use of tiles in architecture, design and decoration goes as far back in history as each of these disciplines. There are many aspects that influence the choice of tiles as a key element in a project. Aesthetics, fashion, the needs of each historical period, research and development, technical advances and the evolution of the design have made it an essential material.

Roca DECO

This publication is designed to become a visual resource, brand new inspiration and your creative tool. A showcase for the versatility and extraordinary properties of Roca Tile ceramic materials.

Each issue of Roca Deco will focus on a collection, concept or colour created by our design and development team to provide you extra value in a visual, creative, technical and inspirational way.

Our Deco editions will always have three distinct sections: Dream, Contract and Life.

N

Rockstone
Oslo

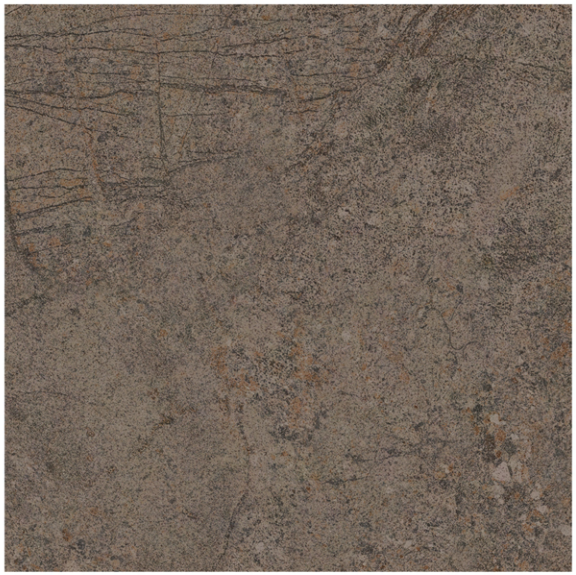

The predominant chromatic shades are grey slates, pearl, marengo and charcoal, interspersed with irregular veins in light shades.

N

Rockstone
Persia

Bright and rich in nuances, with a predominance of a pearl white base with components in ivory, beige, limestone, cream, grey, sand and ochre that give it a very realistic appearance of chromatic particles.

N

Rockstone
Iris

It evokes stone eroded by metamorphic pressure, with veins and cracks in dark tones that contrast with the mink base, full of small elements in cinnamon, chestnut or wengue.

Big Spaces

We travel through urban environments influenced by their architecture and layout.

Big spaces are witness of living and social experiences. Those are places of relationship, of identity, of reference or functionality. We observe them, we feel them and sometimes we even admire them.

Sometimes, spaces are seductive, like the ones we will show you here.

rocatile_es El mármol #Platinium es versátil y polivalente, una cerámica llena de personalidad y luminosidad. Una nueva técnica que mejora el efecto incisivo de la veta en la superficie de la piedra. Polivalente en sus áreas de aplicación por sus tres acabados: Natural, que evoca fielmente el tacto y la respuesta a la luz de los materiales que le dan su identidad; Pulido, de propiedades brillantes con un acabado brillo espejo y alto grado de resistencia; e In&Out, con el tacto sedoso y delicado de un suelo de interior, pero certificado CTE Clase 3 R11 para uso interior y exterior..
